NORTH END OF THE COUNTY NEWS

VERO.

N. O. Penny made a flying trip to Fort Pierce Thursday night.

Mrs. F. C. Prange, of Paradise Island is spending a few days with Mrs. F. C.
Gifford.

Messrs. Roach and Russ were visitors to Fort Pierce Friday, going down in the former's launch.

The first shipment of beans left here Tuesday. T. W. Jeffers and J. M.
Farley were the shippers.

Mrs. N. O. Penny and Mrs. O. Roach were visiting friends in Fort Pierce Monday and Tuesday and also called on the dentist, Dr. Fiegel.

Work will soon begin on our new school house. Dr. Platts was in town Thursday in consultation with the patrons to ascertain what was needed.

F. C. Gifford's packing house was burned Friday night, quite a lot of crate material was destroyed, also a lot of clothing belonging to Sol. Bennet, who was sleeping in the building and narrowly escaped with his life.

N. O. Penny is looking for a buyer for his place near the railroad, containing six acres, all cleared, properly ditched, drained, and under cultivation; 65 orange trees growing; land suitable for either oranges, grapefruit or vegetables; nice three-room dwelling, finely located on main road near postoffice, school and depot. Mr. Penny will sell this place cheap on or on easy payments to good reliable people, as he wishes to build on other property nearby. Just the place for a winter home or for a man to take hold of and make a living on from the start. For full particular write N. O. Penny.

QUAY.

Bean shipping has begun and truck farmers are busy.

J. M. McCullers has several acres of tomatoes that he has begun to ship from.

E. Svedelius, of Valkaria, has several launches and a number of men fishing at this place.

Nelson & Davis have a number of men in the oyster business. They came from Lake Worth last week.

Hon. Wade H. Jones, of Titusville, came down Sunday and went out to Klondyke to spend several days.

M. S. Jones and C. Christiansen were out one day last week and killed a fine deer. Hunting parties are going out from here often.

Ed Walker's kitchen caught fire from the stove pipe last Sunday but the fire was extinguished before much damage was done. He lost his barn and packing house just a year ago by fire.

THE CHUKCHEES.

They Live in Siberia and Have a Mania For Suicide.

A Russian correspondent was talking about Siberia.

"In that strange land," he said, "the strangest thing is the suicidal tendency of the Chukchees. Among the Chukchees, actually, suicide is one of the most common forms of death.

"The Chukchees live in northeastern Siberia. They are small and copper colored. They dress in skins and ride reindeer. Tallow and raw kidney are their chief delicacies. In every Chukchee house hangs a death coat.

"A Chukchee doesn't kill himself by his own hand. He appoints his nearest relatives—his wife, son or daughter—to do the deed. And the delegate never rebels, never declines this sad and horrible task.

"Innumerable are the causes of suicide—jealousy, unrequited love, an incurable disease, melancholy, poverty, and so on.

"I knew a man who was prosperous and apparently happy. Suddenly a desire for death seized him. 'In three months,' he said, 'I will go home to my fathers.' And he calmly settled his affairs and at the appointed time bade his wife to knot a cord about his throat and his two sons to pull upon the cord till he should be strangled. He died, they told me, joking.

"The death coat which hangs in every Chukchee house has a hood. It is for use in suicide. The hood hides the facial contortions of the dying.

"There are Chukchee families wherein suicide is hereditary, wherein it is a point of honor for the sons to kill themselves, a natural death being regarded in such families as disgraceful and scandalous, a sign of the most unpardonable cowardice.

"The Chukchees, despite their suicidal tendency, are a happy and healthy people, moral, truthful, brave and temperate."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

SEBASTIAN.

Cleveland Kitching spent several days of last week at Stuart on business.

Miss Ardella Cain entertained a few friends very pleasantly last Saturday evening.

Several of our citizens are at Oslo fishing, among them being Mr. Parker and Gus Stinson.

Rev. W. A. Myers returned from Lotus last Monday, where he went to preach on Sunday.

Mrs. C. L. Burs, after a pleasant ten days visit with friends here, returned to her home in Daytona.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hardesty returned home Monday from St. Augustine, where they have been for the past three weeks.

Miss Clementine Singleton, of Valkaria, was here to spend Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Miss Ella Singleton.

Our hotel recently changed hands.
Mr. Boughman having bought out Mrs.
Jones, who left for Miami last week.
We bespeak the patronage of the public for the new management.

MEN OF MUSCLE.

Monarchs Who Performed Some Wonderful Feats of Strength.

Augustus the Strong of Saxony in his playful moods would seize a couple of courtiers, one in each hand, and hold them out at arm's length. He would twist stout iron bars around their necks for collars and straighten horseshoes with a wrench of his muscular fingers, while on one occasion, when the horse of one of his attendants refused to budge, he put his herculean shoulders under it and walked away with horse and rider together.

George Castriot, prince of Albania, wielded such a powerful sword that he could sever a bull's head at a single stroke, while once, for a wager, he walked off with ten of his courtiers standing on a platform. Charlemagne, who was reputed to be the strongest man of his time, was able to snap the strongest horseshoe between the fingers of one hand, and Don Sebastian merely by the pressure of his knees could make his charger groan with pain.

Peter the Great of Russia so developed and hardened his naturally strong muscles by years of work as a blacksmith and a carpenter that he became the strongest man in his dominions.
He had but one formidable rival in a country blacksmith, whose boast it was that he was the only man in Russia who could lift an anvil from the ground.

When this boast came to the ears of Peter he set out incognito with a single companion and challenged the blacksmith to a trial of strength. Without a word the latter seized his ponderous anvil with both hands and, straining his mighty muscles almost to bursting point, raised it a foot from the ground. When Peter's turn came he, too, raised the anvil higher and higher until, to his rival's consternation, he placed it on his shoulder and walked out of the smithy with it. So startled was the blacksmith by this exhibition of strength that he rushed away to summon the villagers to "come and see the evil one, who had run away with his anvil."

Peter had a worthy successor in Alexander III., father of the present czar, whose phenomenal strength earned for him the title of the "Russian Samson." Amazing stories are told of Alexander's muscular powers—how he could burst open the stoutest barred doors by a push of his great shoulders, crumple up coins in his hand as if they were leather instead of tough metal, snap iron bars across his knees, tear a whole pack of cards in two and with a few movements of his powerful hands convert a pewter tankard into a bouquet holder.

Nor must we forget that amazonian queen of Poland, Cymburga, who used to crack nuts with her fingers, and when she was training her fruit trees would hammer the nails into the wall with her clenched fist.

Followed Orders.

"Confound it!" exclaimed Jackson.
"What a stupid fellow that jeweler is!"
"How so?" inquired his friend.

"Why, I told him the other day that I wanted engraved on the engagement ring the letters 'From A. to Z.'—From Arthur to Zenobia," you know—and the idiot went and put in the whole alphabet!"

Sure to Fetch Him.

Husband—I have a horror of being buried alive, Jane! Wife—Don't worry. Before you've been dead an hour I'll buy a $40 hat, and if you are alive you'll kick.—Judge.
